LARGE MEETING OF THE FIRST UNION CO-DEFERATIVE BUILDING SOCIETY—EXPELSION OF A MEMBER ON A CHARGE OF ATTEMPTED FRAUD.—The largest meeting of the First Union Co-operative Building Society ever held, met last night at Turner's Hall, Orchard | yesterday afternoon. In the absence of the street. President John Watson in the chair.

The meeting had been convened to hear nd take action on a report from the Board of Management, recommending the expulsion of one of its members, Mr. Benjamin Kelly, 216 West 31st street, on the ground that he had been guilty of attempting a fraud on the Society in having offered a bribe to one of the Survey Committee, a Mr. Blake, it appeared that Mr. Kelly was the purchaser of the first appropriation set up for sale by the society, and being a five shares holder, the appropriation of $5,000 was made to him, at a premium of $2,500. The money, according to the rules of the society, lay in bank until Mr. Kelly should have summitted a property to the survey committee that they should deem sufficient security for the devance to be made him by the Society. He submitted two properties, neither of which the Survey Committee as nd take action on a report from the Board So Tail Sealing the Parties of Markey in the John Sealing of the J

Spening of the New York Woman's Hospital.—The Object of the Institution—Interesting Exercises.
Yesterday afternoon the first portion of the New York State Woman's Hospital, situate at the corner of 50th street and 4th avenue, was opened with very interesting exercises. The attendance of ladies was unusually large, and comprised all those who are known throughout the city for their philandropic works. The medical and clerical professions were also largely represented.
The Hon. James W. Beekman, President of the Board of Governors, presided. The object of the Hospital is unique, and appeals strongly to the nobler and better instincts of man. It is for the surgical treatment of the surgical treatment of the surgical treatment of the interest of diseases produced by maitreatment of the chart of the surgical treatment of the chart of the surgical treatment of the corner of diseases produced by maitreatment of the corner of diseases was regarded as increased. The research and discoveries of Dr. Sims, however, dispelled this idea, and brought hope and new life to many a bereaved family. The Board of Aldermen met by special call

President, Alderman Loew presided.

The following communication was received from the Mayor, and ordered on file :-

MAYON'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, October 10, 1867. } To the Honorable the Common Council:

New York, October 10, 1867.

To the Honorable the Common Council;

Grever, Eurey:—By a clause inserted in the Council ty Tax Levy of 1861, all the powers of the Mayor and Common Council in respect to thea res, emigrant boarding houses, junk shop keepers, pawn-brokers, venders, hawkers, peddars, dealers in second hand at ticles, keepers of intelligence office, muchoners, hackney coaches and carriages, and the owners and drivers thereof, carts and carmen, commisses and omnibus drivers, carts and carmen, commisses and omnibus drivers, carts and car drivers, ware transferred to the Hoard of Metropolitan Police, to the same extent and with like effect as if said lorard was anned in the ordinances of the Common Council.

If was well known that this clause was surreptitionally inserted in the Tax Levy at the very class of the Legislative socion; that it was never discussed even in the Legislative Committee, and was entirely unmoticed by large numbers of the Legislature.

Your honorable body, justly indignant at this kind of legislation, and with a view of defeating it if possible promptly, on the 2shi day of April, 1861, repeated all the ordinances relating to the various classes and occupations affected by it, and it at once approved your action.

With the consent and by the authority of your honorable body, I immediately instituted proceedings in the Supreme Court, to test the constitutionality of the law in question, and to protect the rights of the municipality.

The Supreme Court unanimously rendered a decision in layor of the city, and against the Constitutionality of the law in question, and to protect the rights of the municipality.

The Folice Commissioners appealed to the Court of Appeals.

I have the honor now to Inform your honorable body that the Court of Appeals yesterialy affirmed the decision in layor of the site, and the fraud attempted to be practised upon the Legislature and the people has been properly rebused.

In order that the public business which has been so long suspended by the act in questi
